

01

An uncanny incident with a chain of events that leads to the disappearance of a person. Dark government agencies and supernatural forces intersect in the town, while a few begin to understand that "There's more to this than meets the eye". Guess the play.

02

At some point or the other, we all have experienced it. Maybe you were thinking of someone you haven't talked to in months and you suddenly get a call from them. Or when two people are together, they might say the same thing at the same time. These are spontaneous mind to mind conversations that tend to occur frequently between closely related individuals. What is it called?

03

Can you move an object by means of super-natural forces, as directed by a mystic medium, and not by means of any physical force. Can you be the next eleven? Guess the term.
